

Michelin 3-Star Restaurant S.T.A.Y in Taipei 101

Lite-Puter's most recent project opened its doors in Taipei 101 in November 2011; the opening of Taiwan's second Michelin 3-star restaurant S.T.A.Y puts Taipei on the map of the gourmet world. Yannick Alléno, the head chef of Le Meurice and the soul of this restaurant, has been awarded the ultimate accolade of 3 Michelin stars and elected "Best Chef in France."

The two independent private rooms and two public areas of S.T.A.Y are spaciouly designed using metal, oak, and glass, with embellishments of lighting to adorn the premium quality of the fine cuisine. Incorporating a monochromatic palette of white, bronze, and oak, with vaunted ceilings and various glamorous chandeliers, the luxurious yet elegant ambiance is altogether enhanced with Lite-Puter Lighting Control System. Short for Simple Table Alléno Yannick, S.T.A.Y promises an unforgettable dining experience without traditional formality, so come and immerse yourself in a splendor of French dining atmosphere of Michelin 3-star restaurant.
