

A Garden in Cities

Humble House Hotel

Le Meridien Taipei was built in winter, 2010, and after that, Humble House is opening in 2013...

Recently, design trend is more and more enthusiastic. Both Le Meridien and Humble House belong to Humble Group, and both of them blend art, culture, and life in their aesthetics, combining artwork in every corner of the hotel. When entering the hotel, there is an elegant and sophisticated atmosphere with a simple and relaxing tone.

In the Xinyi District surrounding with senior hotels, Humble House looks like an art garden full of plenty cultural atmosphere. Also, it is a modern gallery with 600 pieces of permanent artwork which is diverse and interesting; besides, a large green space makes people relaxed.

About 50% green building materials are adopted in Humble House and its transparent French window is well-designed. Daylight source is applied; also, effective energy-save lamp and dimming control systems are used there, which can create an art hotel.

Humble House is operated with high level; thus, about 600 pieces of artwork is shown, total cost of which is 80 millions or so.

SALUTE TO ART

Bourrasque, shown in City Council of Lyon, France, is arranged in 1F, concierge. The artificial paper seems to be blown by strong wind and it is very funny when being seen from different points of view. The artwork is designed by Britain artist, Paul Cockledge. A huge amount of LED Luminous plates are dancing with feline grace, full of poetic flavor.

Actually, the real reception hall is on the 6th floor which is the essence of artworks in the hotel, therefore, when taking a walk here, just like visiting an exhibition.

Contemporary art works from international artists are found in all corners of the hotel, such as new concept Chinese wash painting by video, Yang yongliang' s famous works with dynamic time axis, and the creation by Italian artist, Paola Pivi in the entrance of La Farfalla: "Crazy Ball " combined with 77 sets of celebrated chairs in the world. What the most shocking artwork is an oil painting "Dust" in the lounge bar, and its creation time lasts two years, which is like any other artworks in Humble House: more approaching, more surprising.

Elegant Banquet Hall

Various Topic Space Created by Lighting

On the 5th floor, there is no traditional chandelier in the banquet hall so as to keep the space flexible and create different atmosphere. The total area of the banquet hall is 702m², including four halls, two multi-function rooms and a VIP room. If large-scale event is required, the space can be emerged to contain one thousand people at most. Moreover, the advanced AV system, lighting and technique equipment has been allocated in the hall. In the same space, pressing a scene button so as to show various themes, such as wedding feast, conference, dancing party, press conference and art gallery, etc.
